VOL. IV. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1868. NO. 78.

The Daily Sentinel.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the American Farmer.

WORK FOR NOVEMBER.

It is presumed that the seeding of all fall crops has been some time completed, and that no further work remains to be done in securing the tobacco. The saving properly the corn and fodder, and securing them against depredation and damage; the securing of potato and other root crops, and general preparations for winter, will command attention. If leisure can be found, the spring work may be much forwarded by breaking any old sod land, and, if it be still clay, with advantage to the next year's cultivation.

TOBACCO.

The tobacco as it cures should be as much protected as circumstances may admit against rain and high winds. All exposure to fogs or damp weather injures the appearance of the crop, and high winds break and deface it when it is dry. As soon as the stems of the leaves are free from sap, the tobacco is sufficiently cured for stripping from the stalks, and every moist season should be availed of for the purpose.—The earlier this work can be done, the better on every account. Tobacco loses in weight and quality while hanging in the house; and it is very important that it be prepared for market at the earliest practicable time, for these reasons, as well as because we should be prepared to take advantage of the early market, and have the preparation of the crop out of the way of spring work.

In stripping let every attention be given to the proper sorting of the different colors, and the utmost neatness be observed in tying and handing. It is not generally known how much the appearance of a sample depends on these apparently small matters, and, consequently, the sale of the crop.

CORN.

The corn crop is now in condition to be secured. As long as it is in the field it is liable to loss from various sources, and the gathering should be pressed forward to get it under lock and key.

Fodder, after separating the corn, should be hauled to where it may be wanted for feeding, and properly stacked. If practicable, the stalks should be fed early, that their decomposition may be advanced by the tramping they may get through the winter. If blades have been preserved in proper season they make the best fodder for working horses in hot weather, and a portion should be preserved for that purpose.

POTATOES AND OTHER ROOT CROPS.

They should all now be promptly gathered and made secure from frost, except such as are not damaged by exposure. Parsnips and salsify are better for the frosts of winter, and may be dug only when wanted.—Ruta-bagas and other turnips are not hurt by the moderate frosts of this month, but should be got up before the ground freezes hard. If not stored in a cellar, the best and safest way is to pile them in conical heaps, on top of the ground, where it is dry and well drained, and covered well with straw and earth. This makes them more secure, if well covered, than when put in pits in the ground. Twenty to fifty bushels may be put into a heap. Potatoes should not be exposed to sun and air longer than necessary to dry off the external moisture.—Their quality is very soon impaired, especially by the action of light. Ruta bagas should be stored where convenient for feeding. They require less covering than potatoes—indeed, are not seriously damaged by pretty hard freezing. If potatoes are not thoroughly protected against frost they will be destroyed, and before severe weather sets in they should have another covering of straw upon the earth first used, and then an additional covering of earth.

HOGS.

Let no time be now lost in fattening pen hogs. Let the best practicable economy be used in feeding. If grinding of the corn can be effected, great saving will be made in feed, and if it can be boiled or steamed, there will be still greater economy. But if neither be practicable, at least have the corn thrown on a close plank floor, when everything will be eaten clean, and no waste from tramping in mud or dirt. Fattening hogs should be made in all respects comfortable; should have a dry but not too warm bed to sleep on, sufficient protection against weather, with shed opening to the South, and be well supplied always with clean water.

BEEVES AND SHEEP.

For the same reason, all stock to be prepared for the butcher should now be fed with the utmost regularity. The same food makes much more meat in moderate weather than when it is cold. Our observation teaches us that in the moderate fall weather there is peculiar aptitude in our domestic animals to lay on fat. They are free from the annoyance of insects, and the temperature combines with this circumstance to give them comfort and quiet, two necessary aids to improvement in condition. Both sheep and fed cattle must, therefore, be fed early, though they cannot be forced so rapidly as hogs.

WINTER ARRANGEMENTS.

These should include everything necessary for the comfort and health of animals. The confinement we necessarily impose on our stock is an unnatural condition, and they are liable to suffer more or less, unless we give them the most judicious attention, after providing suitably for their comfort. They must have protection from the direct pelting of storms and from the prevailing cold winds. For horned cattle, well covered sheds open only to the South, are perhaps, on the whole, the best winter accommodation. Not that there would be the same economy of food as in close stables, but because of the vital necessity of the amplest supply of fresh air, and the difficulty of furnishing this in close stables, without exposure to cold draught, which may produce dangerous inflammatory diseases.—Cattle seem to suffer little from the cold if they be kept dry, and this latter point should have special attention. All water from the roof should be well thrown off, so that it may not interfere with their comfort, nor should they at any time be allowed to plunge through mud to get to water, or under pretense of any necessity of making manure of the coarse material of the farm yard. Cattle should be well supplied with dry bedding; working oxen, milch cows, and calves, should have separate apartments. Horses should, if practicable, have boxes where they may freely turn themselves, and not be tied to halters or confined in stalls.

Sheep, unless they are being fed for the butcher, should not be confined at all, but should have a shed to which they may have access from bad weather. They are the most healthy, when they have the largest liberty. Provision of course, must be made for ewes having lambs, that they may be entirely protected against aggression of every sort.

Stock hogs should have accommodations apart from other kinds of stock, with shelter open to the sun, and dry bedding. If they can have a woodland range at the same time, it is the best provision that can be made for them. Let them by no means be allowed to lie in heaps of manure, or filth, which cause diseases of the skin and other affections.

WATER.

Water should, if possible, be provided for stock in the yards, that they may be well supplied without plodding through mud, or sliding on ice. While subsisting on dry food, there is much greater necessity than at other times for plenty of water, but, unless the supply is convenient, cattle will often consent to go without it for a long time, sooner than overcome the obstacles to getting it.

MANURES.

During the winter months large accumulations of manure can be made, if the materials be gathered with diligence. If compost be needed, let the stable manure be composted with wood's mould, or any other good, rich earth. The manure may be thus greatly increased in quantity. But mere accumulations of coarse, raw material in the yards do not effect that purpose, unless there is a due proportion of rich manure with which to compost them.

"THIS NOBLE ANIMAL"—SCENE AT A HORSE AUCTION.

Auctioneer on the block shouts, "Bring forth the horse!" Enter two attendants, leading, or properly supporting, a dilapidated equine specimen, too weak and emaciated to possibly walk in without assistance. He has a head like a bass viol, his backbone is too sharp for even chickens to roost on, and not hairs enough in his tail to make a fiddle bow. There are bunches big as watermelons on his knees, and gutters down his sides to carry off the rain water.

Auctioneer—"Ah! gentlemen, here we have a fine specimen of that noble animal, the horse. I sometimes think that the horse is in a way related to men. (Bystander—'This horse is a devilish poor relation.') Talk of the sagacity of the dog! that of the horse far surpasses it. Look at him.—See how he pleads for sympathy. (Bystander—'Pleads for oats, more like.')—What shall I hear for this noble animal?—(Rude boy—'Hear the bells tolling in a day or two.') A direct descendant from Bucephalus; he was sired by Lexington, Ky., and and damed by (Bystander—'Everybody that has owned him') his maternal ancestor.—Come, gentlemen, make a bid. If you want a family horse, of a gentle and affectionate disposition, not disposed to run away, (Bystander—'Or walk away, either'), this is your animal. Any gentleman, by leaving a deposit of $5 for security against the driver, is welcome to take and try him. (Bystander—'For soap grease?') He is warranted not to pull while hitched in the stable, (Hostler—'Or when hitched to the wagon'), and can go single or double. (Bystander—'He would go better with a horse on each side of him to hold him up.") Gentlemen, do I hear an offer? If you don't want him now, you could easily dispose of him for a cavalry horse in the next war. He may be considered the ne plus ultra of a horse.—(Bystander—'Yes, the knock-me plus ultra.') What am I offered?"

A Voice—"Seventy five cents."

Auctioneer—"Sold!"

The bidder cries "sold," and then all the people raise up their voices and cry "sold" also.—Cin. Times.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1868.

GENERAL GRANT.

The reticence of Gen. Grant, since his nomination, has been remarkable in an age and country so intensely persistent to pry into every one's views and opinions, and so full of newsmongers who compass sea and land to get "an item." Perhaps his studied silence was a strong stake in his election,—the Chicago platform and his letter of acceptance being framed with the view of rendering his reticence more justifiable.

What his own views are, or what policy he will adopt, seems to be as much a matter of inquiry and doubt among his supporters as his opponents. His course had made so strong an impression of his conservative moderate character among the great body of the moderate Republicans, as well as upon many Democrats, that nothing said by his ultra supporters and opposers in the North could shake that conviction, and, hence, hundreds of thousands, whose prejudices were strong against the Democracy, but who equally ignored the violent course of the Radicals, did not hesitate to vote for him.

In order to the proper composition of his Cabinet and the success of his policy, it will be as necessary for him to preserve his reticence, until near the period of his inauguration, as it has been in the past. That same prying spirit, which he avoided during his candidacy, will be, if possible, still more pertinacious now than then, and yet he must preserve his caution, if he would avoid trouble in making a fair start.

There is almost a universal disposition, on the part of the press of all parties, to concede to Gen. Grant moderation, a disposition to accord to every man and every section what is due, and a true patriotism. It is claimed that he will not be the President of a party, but of the whole people, and all parties seem ready to hope and believe, in advance, that his administration will meet the approbation of the masses.

For the sake of the peace of the country, all parties should strive to accord to Gen. Grant the desire and purpose to do his best to promote the harmony and the prosperity of the country, and to hope that wise counsels and statesmanship will influence his action. Whether he will endeavor to secure these by following and sustaining the ultra views of the Radical Republicans, or the moderate views of the Conservative Republicans, time only must determine.—Fortunately, General Grant will enter the Presidential chair, under favorable circumstances, so far as the feelings and temper of the people affect him. Whatever may be the hostility, in the country, towards prominent ultra politicians on both sides, and however bitter towards each other the two great contending parties may be, it is very evident there is no bitterness against Gen. Grant, and no disposition to judge him harshly in advance. So far from it, we have never known, after so fierce a conflict of parties, so charitable and kindly feelings expressed by his opponents, towards any other candidate,—except, perhaps, towards Gen. Taylor. This is evidently owing to the high appreciation by the people, of all parties, of the distinguished services of Gen. Grant in terminating the war, and the generous spirit he evinced towards Gen. Lee and the Southern armies upon their surrender. We sincerely trust that the confidence and high estimate placed upon General Grant's moderation and good intentions will be fully realized in his administration. It will be far more grateful to us, to acknowledge those exhibitions of good feeling, good judgment and a sound discretion in his administration, than to allude to any contrary course he may determine to take, by way of disapproval or condemnation.—Now that we have Grant, "Let us have peace."

THE COTTON CROP.

The calculations, made by those who are conversant with the cotton crop, seem to fix the cotton crop of 1868, at a reasonable estimate, viz: about 2,000,000 bales,—the number which we fixed on, months ago.—Should this estimate be taken as correct by the commercial world, prices will be very well sustained the present season. We advised our friends among cotton planters, some time ago, not to rush the crop into market longer than good living prices were maintained.

Necessity may oblige many to sell at moderate prices, but those who are able to hold on and watch the market will find it to their advantage, doubtless, to do so.—The fluctuation of the gold market, and its downward tendency, will affect the price of cotton. This, however, cannot be prejudicial to the cotton grower, as the more the country approximates to the gold standard, prices will be reduced upon all articles of consumption, so that the producer will be gainer in the end.

MAJ. AVERY'S majority for the Senate in the 41st District over Bogle, Radical, is upwards of 300. Maj. A. will make a useful and efficient Senator, and we are rejoiced at his success.

STATE VOTE.

It will be seen that our table, this morning, embraces returns, official and reported, from 73 Counties. In these the Democratic nett gain is 7,441. A similar ratio of gain in the remaining Counties will leave the Radical majority 9,997. We have not the heart to comment upon this exhibit. It is one which is extremely mortifying to us.

Looking at the result by Counties, however, and with reference to State politics in the future, there is room for much encouragement. The Democrats have carried fully 47 out of the 89 Counties in the late election,—leaving 42 to the Radicals, and many of these by very small majorities. These 47 Counties elect 59 out of the 120 members of the House of Representatives,—leaving the Radicals 61. It may be seen, therefore, at a glance, how easy it will be, in the future, by anything like a proper effort, to obtain control of the State government and remedy much of the grievous evil which has already been done. Let us "watch and wait."

SMALL FARMS.

Everything connected with the prosperity of the South seems to indicate the necessity of changing very materially the system of agriculture. Some of our planters, who are favorably situated, find it to their advantage to keep up their large plantations and to employ a large force. Every man must, of course, be his own judge in this matter. But, as a general rule, the want of cheap labor to keep the drains and ditches open, to keep the fences up and a general system of improvement on the farms, plainly indicates the necessity of reducing the size of our farms and leasing them to good tenants, at reasonable prices, in order to the improvement of the lands.

Skilled labor and ordinary industry and forecast will soon convince every one, that the system of small farms offers the highest inducements to the future well-being of the community. We must try the adoption of the shift system or change of crops, leaving lands uncultivated with a coat of clover or under fence to prevent grazing, the cultivation of the cereals and the grasses, as well as every other article needed either for home consumption or market produce. Let every person plant an orchard of choice fruits. There is scarcely anything more profitable.

For the Sentinel.

WM. A. SMITH, PRESIDENT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA RAIL ROAD.

COMPANY SHOPS, Nov. 9th. 1868.

Messrs. Editors:—Rather than there should be any doubt as to the correctness of the statement of your correspondent at Company Shops, as to the "intimidation and coercion" of voters by Wm. A. Smith, President of the N. C. R. R. Co., in the late election, I herewith transmit to you a verbatim copy of his order to Mr. Burns, the Master Mechanic of the Rail Road Shops, which was read to the victims of his proscriptive policy on the morning after the election. It reads as follows:

"Mr. Burns: You will discharge Whitsitt, Houston and Bason, as they voted to-day to discharge the Governor of the State, myself and all other State officers. I now vote to discharge them."

Is this not sufficient evidence to establish the fact that these gentlemen were discharged for their political opinions, which the laws of North Carolina forbid under pains and penalties? Messrs. Whitsitt, Houston and Bason are young men of high personal character, and have enjoyed the confidence of the officials in every administration through which this Road has passed.—Neither of them has ever taken any active part in the political excitements which have swept over this country, beyond the simple expression of their opinion at the ballot box, and no man, heretofore, has ever questioned their right so to do.

The President declared, repeatedly, that he would discharge every man who voted the Conservative ticket, and, in order that there might be no mistake as to who dared to violate this unalterable decree, negroes were actually detailed by him, or his subordinates, TO WATCH WHITE MEN at the polls. Not being satisfied with the number he held in vassalage at this place, I learn that he ordered the freight trains to run ahead of time, in order to reach Graham before the polls were closed; and the gravel trains from the Eastern and Western divisions were likewise ordered to roll up their multitudes for the same purpose. By this imported vote, the fair fame of Alamance county stands to-day tarnished with radicalism. But we take encouragement from the lines of the Poet:

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again;
The eternal years of God are her's."

She wiped out the stain upon her escutcheon in April last, and would have sustained it in this contest, had justice and fair dealing been the order of the day. She will yet proclaim to the world that her proud memories are not forgotten, and that the sacred blood of the revolution, which was spilled upon her soil, has not ceased to inspire the hearts of her sons with that reverence and repect due to the memory of those brave and gallant heroes, who poured out that blood like water on the banks of the Alamance, to secure to themselves and their posterity the priceless heritage of Constitutional liberty.

But these things now belong to the past. The present alone is our's to make the necessary preparations to meet the coming events of an uncertain future, which we hope will be one of peace and prosperity to our distracted, ruined and impoverished people.

The great political questions are now settled, however grave, mighty and commanding they may have been to the Southern people, and however much we may have desired a different decision. Yet the voice of the American people has placed these issues beyond cavil, and it is our duty, as law loving and law-abiding citizens, to work ourselves up to the situation.

Repectfully,
CYCLOPS.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.—On Tuesday morning last, the 3d inst., about 6 o'clock, the shock of an earthquake was felt by many persons in this city; and we have conversed with gentlemen from Gaston, Lincoln and Union counties, and York and Lancaster Districts, who say they also felt it. We felt the jar so sensibly that we raised up from our bed and looked out, supposing that something had struck the house.—Others say they heard a roaring sound as if the chimney was on fire.—Charlotte Democrat.

We are badly whipped, and are waiting patiently for some newspaper wit to say that the Democratic party feels like Lazarus when he was "licked by the dogs." It will come.

[From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Nov. 4.]

THE SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN READS A LESSON TO THE RADICAL PARTY.

The result of the election, yesterday, though it was all the Republicans could have asked, was not a triumph of the Republican party as a distinctive organization. * * * * * *

And if the victory was not achieved by the Republican party, as a political organization, in its own strength, and by the prestige of its name, no more does it give that party, as an organization, a new lease of power. * *

The result of the election does not indicate a popular approval even of the general policy of Congress. The election was carried in spite of the policy. Had that simple issue been presented, we very much fear every one of the four Middle States would have pronounced against it. * * * * *

Representatives have before this shown a strange facility, or fatality, in misapprehending the wishes of the people. They must not do so now. If they imagine that the elections are a token of particular admiration for them; if they think that they can begin again, just where they left off last April, alarmed at the popular discontent and the increasing danger of losing the election; if they allow themselves to be persuaded that, now the campaign is over, it will do to take the screws off the expenditures, they make a great mistake. They will not get off so easily the next time. * * * * * * *

There is certain to be a recast of the political elements, according to the new and live issues; and now, if the leaders and managers of the Republican party—the men who live by it and think they own it—wish to keep it in the control of the government, they must make it attractive for those who look to honesty, integrity and efficiency in administration. It is not difficult to gather the sentiments of the men who have turned the scale this time in favor of the Republican party, and who must be looked to hereafter to keep it in power. In voting to sustain the reconstruction acts, against the mad designs of the reactionists, they have not decided against a change in those acts, but quite the contrary. They desire an immediate amelioration of them in their most offensive features. The disfranchisement of any class, or the exclusion of any State, for acts done in the rebellion, never wise, has grown to be simply stupid. The limited disfranchisement imposed has done harm and only harm. It has not assured the control of a single State in loyal hands. * * * * *

Unqualified negro suffrage is another feature that will not bear examination, and must eventually be modified.

The height of human villainy has been reached by the scoundrels of South America, who turn the earthquakes to their advantage. They lately buried large quantities of powder in a hill near the town, intending to explode it and make the people desert their houses in affright. The plan was then to plunder the houses, but the wicked scheme fortunately failed.—New York Star, October 31.

WAYNE COUNTY.—Despite the blatings of Brogden and his crew, despite the efforts of the Freedmen's Bureau, despite the presence of a garrison of negro soldiers, and all these circumstances taken together, old Wayne came out of the late contest covered with the glory of well earned victory.—Thank God, she now occupies the lofty position of the better days; and her true and honest sons can point to her with the pride her name was wont to inspire. She is gloriously redeemed, and her gallant democracy deserve well of the party and the country.

Although we have lost in the national race, and the State, too, has perhaps spoken for the enemy, it is consoling to reflect that so signal and terrible a rebuke has been delivered to scallawagism in this county. And we should congratulate ourselves upon the fact that Wayne will now have a representative in the Legislature, an advantage which she has not enjoyed for a whole year past. Scallawags have sat there and misrepresented her and cast odium upon her fair name. We now have the satisfaction of knowing that when the roll of members is called, at any rate one gentleman from Wayne will respond.—Goldsboro Messenger.

REMARKABLE LONGEVITY.—A negro man named Reuben Kennedy died in this city on the 29th ult., as will be seen by our mortuary report, at the advanced age of 105 years. It is quite unnecessary to add that old age was the cause of dissolution.

We wish we knew something of the history of this aged patriarch. We doubt not that he was a "good old slave" for near a hundred years, during which time he must have belonged to several good masters who "passed over to the other shore" before him. It is possible that his memory went back to a time when he was sold by his Yankee owner to a Virginia trader, and that he could recount tales of hardship and cruelty that he and his parents endured at the hands of the ancestors of blatant New England negro-worshippers of this generation. But it is useless to speculate. Reuben is at last free. Peace to his ashes.—Galveston News.

At Talledega (Alabama) court recently a negro jury was empanneled. There were about fifteen negroes tried for various offences, each one of whom, on his trial, demanded a white jury, and every one of them was acquitted except one, and his punishment was light. The colored jurors sat in their box from Monday morning until Saturday night, without having a single case submitted to them.

Two free holders of Warrenton, by authority of the code of Virginia, opened a poll in that place on Tuesday, and one hundred and four citizens deposited their ballots for Seymour and Blair.—Index.

There is a tailor in New Orleans named Stitch, a shoemaker named Kick, a dentist named Gumpert, a gunsmith named Lock, and a carpet-bag clergyman named Satchell.

Ex-President Pierce was well enough to ride to the polls in Concord, N. H., on Tuesday, and cast his ballot for Seymour and Blair.

NEW YORK.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
NEW YORK.
Office, No. 69, Liberty Street.

The Original Joint Stock Life Insurance Company in the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the insurance of first-class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the STOCK system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the MUTUAL, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum assured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED, and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium for a promised dividend which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT, and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Suppose that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the "Universal" the sum of $11,754, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a Company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,474.

The difference between these sums ($3,277) is exactly the same as an immediate bonus or addition to the policy to be paid by the former office to the holder of the policy in case of the early death of the insured. It is true that if the insured, in an office charging high rates, live long enough, and have his periodical dividends added to his policy, the sum may equal or surpass that above named; but it must not be forgotten that the chance of early death is the very thing the applicant desires to insure against, and consequently the greater the sum immediately secured contingent on this event, the greater the advantage to the policy-holder.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one-third per cent. greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty three and one-third per cent., payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent. payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in insurance of the premium paid is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

Rates to Secure $1,000 at Death.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1868.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Some of our City and County subscribers have delayed payment until their bills in the aggregate are considerable. We beg them to attend to them at once.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Molasses, Syrups, Sugars, Coffees, Liverpool fine Salt:—T. A. Williams & Co., No. 6 Roanoke Square, Norfolk, Va.

Carpet-Warp already dyed and ready for use, Rope, Twine, Cordage: Thomas H. Briggs, Fayetteville Street.

LEGISLATURE.—W. P. Welch, Dem., is elected to the House of Representatives, in Haywood, vice Brown, ineligible.

E. M. Painter, Dem., is elected in Jackson, vice Col. Keener, banned.

FORTY FIRST DISTRICT.—The Democratic majority in this Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Clay, Cherokee, Jackson, Haywood and Macon, is upwards of 1,000. Much of the credit for this gratifying exhibit is due to the gallant labors of Dr. W. L. Love, the Senator from the District.

PLATO DURHAM'S majority in his District is estimated at upwards of 600 votes. This is, indeed, well done.

WE LEARN that Holden is mightily tickled at the idea of having been suggested, by the New York Herald, for a place in Gen. Grant's Cabinet. We hope that the matter will be pressed. His appointment will be a popular one in North Carolina. None could be more so, unless he were tendered a foreign mission. Why not Pernambucate him?

MT. NEBO, Judge Pearson's own precinct in Yadkin, gave a majority for Shober and for Seymour and Blair. The Judge was present at the election.

WM. A. SMITH, OF JOHNSTON.—We invite attention to the letter of our Alamance correspondent, in this issue, in which he furnishes a verbatim copy of the order of Wm. A. Smith, President of the North Carolina Railroad, discharging Messrs. Whitsell, Houston and Bason, from the employment of the Company, on the express ground that they voted the Democratic ticket. We call the attention of the Solicitor for the District to the following sections of the Act of the Legislature, ratified Aug. 24, 1868, and demand that he shall do his duty. Let the Grand Juries look to the matter:

SEC. 2. That it shall be unlawful for any person to attempt to influence the vote of any of the qualified voters of this State, in any election, by any threat to discharge such voter from employment or to withdraw from him patronage, or to discharge from employment, or refuse patronage to, any member of such voter's family.

SEC. 4. That it shall be unlawful for any person to discharge from employment, withdraw patronage from, or otherwise injure, threaten, oppress or attempt to intimidate any of the qualified voters of this State because of the vote such voter may cast in any election.

SEC. 5. That any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to indictment for the same, and on conviction of having violated the provisions of section one, shall be fined not less than twenty dollars, or imprisonment not less than ten days. And on conviction of having violated the provisions of section two, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not less than twenty days. And on conviction of having violated the provisions of section three, shall be fined not less than twenty dollars, and also imprisoned not less than ten days. And on conviction of having violated section four, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, and also imprisoned not less than twenty days.

N. C. CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

STATESVILLE, N. C., Nov. 4th, 1868.

The North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist E. Church, South, will convene in Statesville, December 2d.,—Bishop W. M. Wightman, D. D., the presiding officer.

The Railroads in the State will pass all persons attending Conference for one fare—one ticket to go and return.

The Trains on the Western N. C. Road run only tri-weekly; but an extra train will leave Salisbury Tuesday morning, Dec. 1st, arriving in Statesville about 8 o'clock, A. M. EDWIN A. YATES,
Pastor of M. E. Church at Statesville.

A MODEL RADICAL.—One of the negro registrars appointed for this County by the Board of Commissioners made oath to that body that he had registered a certain number of persons in his district, and sent in his bill for the amount due him for his labors, on Thursday. The Commissioners did not believe his sworn tale, and counted the number of persons he had registered.—His account was ten in excess of the proper number, and the Commissioners ordered that his report be sent back to him, and he be requested to swear nearer the mark. He is a fair sample of the majority of his class.—Newbern Journal of Commerce.

The Radicals have carried the election by force of arms. Cain slew his brother Abel because he had the power to do so, but that triumph of might over right did not make murder respectable nor popular.

The Radicals have won the white elephant, and have a lease for four years on the White House. The next business in order is the meeting of Congress and the increase of taxes.

WHAT A PRESIDENT SHOULD BE.

Gen. Grant's reticence, and the terms of his letter of acceptance, it is claimed by the moderate Republican Press, at the North, leave him uncommitted to any particular line of policy. We would that he could be guided by the following delineation of what a patriot President should be, as drawn by the hand of the great Expounder of the Constitution. Let him take this master-portrait for his model, and he will rally around himself and his administration all good and true men, the wide country over.

In a speech delivered to the young men of Albany, on the 28th. of May, 1851, Daniel Webster said:

"Gentlemen, a patriot President of the United States is the guardian, the protector, the friend of every citizen in them. He should be, and he is, no man's persecutor, no man's enemy, but the supporter and protector of all and every citizen, so far as such suppo t and protection depend on his faithful execution of the laws. But there is especially one great idea which Washington presents, and which governed him, and which should govern every man in high office, who means to resemble Washington; that is, the duty of preserving the Government itself; of suffering, so far as depends on him, no one branch to interfere with another, and no power to be assumed not belonging to such, and none abandoned which pertains to such; but to preserve it and carry it on unharmed for the benefit of the present and future generation.

Gentlemen, a wise and prudent shipmaster makes it his first duty to preserve the vessel which carries him, and his passengers, and all that is committed to his charge; to keep her afloat, to conduct her to her destined port with entire security of property and life; that is his first object, and that should be the object, and is, of every Chief Magistrate of the United States, who has a proper appreciation of his duty. His first and highest duty is to preserve the Constitution which bears him, which sustains the Government, without which every thing goes to the bottom; to preserve that, and keep it, with the utmost of his ability and foresight, off the rocks and shoals, and away from the quick-sands; to accomplish this great end, he exercises the caution of the experienced navigator. He suffers nothing to betray his watchfulness, or to draw him aside from the great interest committed to his care; but is always awake, always solicitous, always anxious, for the safety of the ship which is to carry him through the stormy sea.

"Though pleased to see the dolphins play,
He minds his compass and his way;
And oft he throws the wary lead,
To see what dangers may be hid:
At helm he makes his reason sit,
His crew of passions all submit.
Thus, thus he steers his barque and sails,
On upright keel, to meet the gales!"

Now, gentlemen, a patriot President, acting from the impulses of this high and honorable purpose, may reach what Washington reached. He may contribute to raise high the public prosperity, to help to fill up the measure of his country's glory and renown; and he may be able to find a rich reward in the thankfulness of the people,

'And read his history in a nation's eyes.'"

The Memphis Avalanche declares that "the efforts of detectives have developed beyond the possibility of a doubt that the assassination of Gen. Hindman was planned in Little Rock by leading Radicals, and executed by their orders. The assassin was a white man, who was paid $800 for the transaction. He left Little Rock stealthily, approached Helena, and was taken charge of there by Radicals in the plot, who furnished all needed information about Gen. Hindman, the most practicable method of committing the murder, &c. As soon as the deed was committed, the assassin returned to Little Rock, and thence went to Mexico via Texas."

STRANGE RUMOR.—The story was bruited about the streets yesterday afternoon that General Grant had announced to one of his friends in this city his purpose to give Gen. Lee a portfolio. If it were known that Lee would become a member of Grant's Cabinet it would also be known that Grant's words were not idle when he said "Let us have peace." Lee's accession to the Cabinet would be the perfection of moral, physical and political reconstruction acts.—St. Louis Times.

THE NEGRO VOTE IN TENNESSEE.—Nashville, November 7.—The large negro vote cast for the Democratic candidates at the late election surprised both political parties. The Memphis Avalanche, a leading Democratic journal, yesterday came out squarely for negro suffrage. Fully one-half of the negro vote was cast for the Democratic ticket. In Knoxville, a negro named Johnson was severely beaten because he refused to vote for Maynard, the Radical nominee for Congress.

PAYING AN ELECTION BET.—Leavenworth, Nov. 7.—Senator Pomeroy walked through the streets of this city last evening, in pursuance to a promise made prior to the election, if Leavenworth should give a majority for the Republicans. He was followed by an immense crowd, composed of "Tanners," with torches and transparencies, and citizens of all political opinions.

ANDREW JOHNSON AND THE TENNESSEE GOVERNORSHIP.—A number of papers have placed the name of Andrew Johnson at the head of their columns as the candidate for next Governor of Tennessee. It is said that Mr. Johnson will accept the Democratic nomination, and there is but little doubt that he will receive it.

THE END OF LOUISIANA RADICALISM.

The Republican after counseling its followers not to vote at the election yesterday becomes lachrymose over the "sad spectacle" presented by the city of New Orleans—a "sad spectacle" in that the Democracy, the white people, the only people of Louisiana, were to be seen quietly and resolutely exercising the right of which Radical carpet-baggers and recreant scallawags have vainly schemed and conspired to cheat them. It would have been a joyous spectacle, perhaps, if the polling places had been thronged with battalions of deluded negroes, organized into voting parties by prowling adventurers, and marched from poll to poll, as was the case last April. It would have been very exhilarating, no doubt, to "treely loil" eyes, to see the large white majority, constituting the people of New Orleans and Louisiana, overborne by a servile mob, wielded by imported plunderers and ignorant of everything but obedience to their "treely loil" Radical masters. But the day for such spectacles is past in Louisiana, whether Grant is elected or not. Not only have the Democracy demonstrated their ability and their determination to control its destinies, but the negroes have proved that they are utterly unfit and incapable to contest the supremacy with them. It is absurd as well as false to say that they abstained from voting on account of intimidation. It is false because there was no intimidation; because policy, as well as every other consideration, would have restrained the Democracy from violence; and it is absurd because nothing can be more ridiculous than that a great and powerful party, claiming to be in a majority, and capable of asserting its rights, should cower in the dust in the face of a phantom fear. The Republican knows that the full Radical vote could have been cast in this city yesterday, and that there would have been no interference with any voter in the exercise of his legal rights. That paper knows that the abstention of the negroes from the polls was dictated by their white leaders, and that it was dictated in order that a pretext might be invented for perpetrating another outrage on the people of Louisiana—that, in short, it was nothing more or less than a trick; a subterfuge—the last resort of desperate political gamblers to retrieve a game which would have been lost by honest playing. Did not Gov. Warmouth vote yesterday? Did not Col. Sypher vote? Did not Col. Sheldon vote? Did not all the Radical leaders vote? Did not the editors and attaches of the Republican vote? If these could vote, why not the black Radicals? If there is a feeling of antipathy in this community against the Republican party, it is directed not against the deluded tools, the blind and ignorant followers, but against the corrupt leaders; against the men who have schemed and conspired to rob the people of Louisiana of their rights, and who are now contriving to cheat them of their vote in the electoral college. If these men were safe at the polls yestreday, the black Radicals would have been doubly safe.

It the Republican thinks that the trick which has been devised to nullify the vote of this State will tend to secure the ascendancy of the two or three hundred carpet-baggers and scallawags who have sized upon the government, it will discover that it has greviously erred. Its faction is doomed by the voice of the people of Louisiana, and no expedients of legislative legerdemain, no congressional devices, can ever resuscitate it. It has conclusively proven not only its weakness, but its nonentity as a political element.

MOTIONS OF THE STARS.—The Scientific American says: "A remarkable paper has lately been sent to the Royal Society of England by Mr. Higgins, one of the Fellows. It announces the application of a new and most promising method of inquiry to the determination of the stars' motions. Mr. Higgins tested this method by the motions of the star Sirius. The spectrum of this star is crossed by a number of dark lines, and among others by one known to correspond to a bright line seen in the spectrum of burning hydrogen. The two spectra were brought side by side, and due care having been taken to magnify as much as possible any discrepancy which might exist, it was found that the dark line in the spectrum of Sirius was not exactly opposite the bright line in the spectrum of hydrogen, but was a tightly shifted towards the red end of the spectrum. It followed from the amount of the displacement that at the observation Sirius was receding from the earth at a rate of about forty miles per second. When due account is taken of the earth's orbital motion at the time of observation, it results that Sirius is receding from the sun at the rate of about twenty eight miles per second, or upwards of nine hundred millions of millions of miles per annum." If this method of examining Sirius, which is the nearest of the fixed stars, should be carried into the examination of other and remoter ones, conclusions would be arrived at of great scientific value. Of course the motion to a great extent is apparent—not real—as the whole solar system is known to be moving towards the constellation Hercules; and as the observations are made on the earth, the observatory as well as the observed star is in motion.

FROM FLORIDA.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 10, P. M.

Lt. Gov. Gleason and Secretary Alden occupy rooms at the City Hotel, across the street from the Capitol.

Yesterday afternoon, at the Hotel, the Adjutant General of the State demanded a paper from Secretary Alden, relating to his appointment as Adjutant, which Alden refused, when a pistol was drawn. Chief Justice Randall, who was present, with others, interfered, and succeeded in arresting the difficulty.

To-day, on complaint of Secretary Alden, Adjutant Carse was bound over in the sum of five hundred dollars to keep the peace.

Gleason's party claim that Reed caused the destruction of arms, to prevent them from being used to aid in his conviction; while the other side say that Gleason's party did it to add to Reed's embarrassment.

[Your Reporter cannot ascertain on careful enquiry, whether the Ku Klux, or one of the two sections of the Loyal League, are the parties guilty of the outrage.]

Jonathan E. Gibbs, a colored man is Governor Reed's Secretary of State. Gibbs was appointed, in the first instance, by Gov. Reed, when forming the Cabinet, was confirmed by the Senate, and afterwards set aside on account of a mistake in the name, and Alden was appointed. With the exception of Secretary of State, Governor Reed's Cabinet is unchanged.

FROM CHARLESTON—MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 10, P. M.

The municipal election took place, to-day, and was attended with intense excitement. Chancellor Lesesne was the candidate of the citizens' party for Mayor, and Gilbert Pillsbury of the Republicans. The vote has been very close, and will not be counted till to-morrow forenoon.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMPLETE. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade, &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but STOP, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by

The hot suds and steam, by the action of fire, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the Clothes and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing it perfectly without any rubbing. It has been thoroughly tested and pronounced unequalled as a Clothes Washer by those who have used it.

All fabrics, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket, can be washed perfectly and with ease without the aid of the rubbing-board. For Flannels it is invaluable as the rubbing, rolling, and pressing process, must necessarily fall them, more or less.

It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Washing will no longer be a hardship, and washing day no longer a terror and a dread to housewives.

The invention can be used in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

If the directions are strictly followed, success is certain.

The saving in the wear of clothes will very soon pay for the outlay.

It is estimated that 200 to 300 gallons of boiled suds pass through the clothes in thirty minutes; this being the longest time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes.

Having purchased the exclusive interest and control of the Automatic Clothes Washer and Boiler, for North Carolina, we have established a depot in Raleigh, where we are prepared to fill orders or to sell COUNTY RIGHTS. Letters addressed to us at Raleigh, N. C., or Portsmouth, Va., will receive prompt attention.
